Notice of Foreclosure.

Whereas Tunis Van Keuren and Mary I. Van Keuren on the second day of March, 1866, mortgaged to Harvey Gordon a certain piece of land situate in Hampden, in the County of Penobscot, and bounded as follows, to wit: Beginning at a stake standing on the north side of the Western Road, so called, at the northwest corner of land now or formerly of William P. Briggs, thence north 12° east, one hundred and twenty-three rods, more or less, to the land of Henry Brooks; thence west 12 north, fifty-two rods, more or less, to land of Joseph Hamblin; thence southerly on said road to the first mentioned bounds. Also one other parcel of land situate on said Hampden and bounded as follows, to wit: Beginning at the northwest corner of the above described land, thence north 12° east, to land formerly owned by Josiah Peacock, thence easterly on said land, Babcock's lot, to land formerly owned by Hannibal Hamlin, thence southerly by said land and on the land of said Hamlin, to the northeast corner of the above described land, thence west to the beginning, containing fifty acres, more or less, and reserving the right of way over said premises the day conveyed to said Briggs, as by said deed and said Mary I. Van Keuren, which said mortgage, recorded in the Penobscot Registry, Book 300, page 350, the said Gordon assigned to me, by assignment recorded in said Registry, Vol. 341, page 1, and whereas the conditions of said mortgage are now broken for breach of the condition subsequent to said deed, to wit, the non-payment of the sum of $1,000 and interest, according to the tenor and effect of the promissory note in said mortgage mentioned, and whereas the condition

THE RETURNS.

It is amusing to notice what ubiquitous and comprehensive abilities are conceded to Mr Blaine by the Bangor Commercial, to whom the name of the ex Speaker is a constant incentive to frenzy To Mr Blaine is attributed the national debt, the depression in the lumber trade, the suspension of the Bank of California and the hard money platform of the New York Democracy, and with all these small affairs on hand it yet deals true for him to manufacture election returns for the Secretary of State and to simultaneously act as proof reader for that paper and the Kennebec Journal. Are all this on account of a few clerical or typographical errors in tabulations giving the votes of some four hundred places, aggregating more than 110,000 and put in type at our office after 9 o'clock in the evening for the next morning's issue

In the returns for Penobscot county the Democrats in dropping out of Algoa Record Bowdoin vote by 100 and Mt Chase vote of 8 to 27 was transposed by the Journal, making a difference of 38 more in Connor's favor. With these corrections our footings of Penobscot county would stand 7,324 to 6,393, with a Republican majority of 931. In Knox county Hurricane Island is entered with 104 to 4 and the vote of Matinicus is also given 4 to 104. We presume that the former vote was included in the latter although the figures given separately in the Journal of Connor 4 conceding the error the footings of Knox would stand for Connor 4 781 to Davis 3,130. Applying these and similar differences in another footing the republican would stand Connor 67,611, Davis 59,124, with a majority of 4,552

With reference to Aroostook the Commercial's statement that we could have given complete returns from the Aroostook papers both untrue and silly We had an Aroostook paper containing partial returns whether obtained by guess or basis we know not, and we see absolutely no reason to substitute them for the official returns from the election officers of that county to be Secretary of State. We shall rely upon the State House figures until they are authoritatively changed

The activity with which the intellectual department of our contemporary has seized upon two or three slight errors in an extensive compilation of figures, would find an excellent field among the jumbled mass of facts which it has thrown together in tabulated form in its own columns No one ever expected to find a table of figures correctly given in that paper and what it calls "returns" have evidently been set up in London The footings of counties bear no relation to the figures above and in the explanation the votes of four counties are given differently from those under its own tables in one case varying nearly five hundred

We think that our returns, although hastily put in type will be found remarkably correct and we shall revise them when any errors as discovered at Augusta, instead of manufacturing returns and majorities to order after the fashion of the Bourbon organ

A LUNATIC CAMPAIGN.

From the New York Tribune

The present campaign in Ohio is in many aspects different from any ever before seen in our history In every previous one of them there has been some pretense at discussion both the principles proposed and the objects for which it was to be carried on with Law and common sense and that success would be for the general welfare Hitherto there have always been two sides to a question, in Ohio as elsewhere and charges have been dishonestly made by politicians in debate with some appearance of logic and self respect But there is no pretense of such a state of things in Ohio at this moment The Republican speakers talk to us under the principles of nature and of common honesty established for centuries by the universal consent of the civilized world They deal in no complex speculations or elementary rules of arithmetic They set down only the names of their opponents without proving that they are unlike Cæsar On the other side all these Universalities are treated with contempt They cannot be answered and do not even offer to answer them The insolence of power does not wish time to discuss principles It controls Allen with that frank and unconcealed ignorance of his whole record Then the issue of the most stupid sort results The Democratic party [illegible] to consider an argument addressed to its intelligence Mr Cox one of the ablest men about pleads in his Montgomery speech not that the Democrats have been honest and capable but that they are stronger than the Republicans

Horatio Seymour, in a speech to the Army of the Cumberland, made a very happy statement of his own military qualities when he said "even Grant will admit that in a little contest I had with him he was a good deal faster and further than I had

What is the issue in Pennsylvania? and answers it by saying, "simply that of maintaining good government" Nine years of Republican administration in the State have cut down the debt from $35,315,452 to $24,368,638 That is the kind of operation the people would like to see continued

The worst feeling young gentleman we know of is Mr A G Buell, journalist, who is stumping Ohio, and who says by the record of the Republican party "If I might be transformed into a Vesuvius of invective and thrown at this moment into the fiercest eruption the next small hours would come and find me in the middle of my theme" Mr. Buell would evidently show a great flow of the "crater"

The Richmond Whig (Dem.) has discovered a new argument for inflation. It is a very good one—for the latitude of Virginia It is, briefly, that "if the tax upon tobacco should be abolished the National Government could make up any deficiency in revenue by an issue of legal tenders." This method of making up deficiencies in revenue by issuing promises to pay is not unfamiliar to delinquent debtors, but as a theory for regulating National finances it is certainly unique

The Ohio correspondent of the New York Times, in his last letter, says: "From information gathered pretty widely over the State during the several days just past, I feel I can state confidently that any increase of hope on the part of Democrats, or loss of faith among Republicans in the last four weeks, is without any real basis of reason. These events have had little influence in this State, and the Maine election had no more elements in common with Ohio than had the election in California, in a gas and pronunciamento State, like Cleveland, which owes its unexampled prosperity to intelligent and honest, industry, a creature without pulsons or soulist weight to entitle him to propose any sort of novelty, should be listened to and applauded in the utterance of insanities which if accepted and put in action would make a desert of the country.

There is nothing else in this campaign Mr Thurman, with his cautious explanations of the platform; Mr. Hendricks, with his feats of equilibrium on the fence, and men of that sort cut no figure whatever in the fight. All the honors all the plaudits, all the enthusiasm are for the roaring republicanists who denounce the bondholder, the man who has lent his money to the Government at low interest, as the robber and plunderer of the people, who encourage the loafer and the tramp to take their living by the strong hand from the wicked fellows who have worked and saved money; and who appeal to honest and ignorant poverty to take counsel of its ignorance and forswear its honesty, on the pretense that it can never be relieved except by the dishonor of the nation. Of course there are thousands of Democrats in Ohio and hundreds of thousands in the country who look upon all this with disgust and abhorrence. But they cannot help hoping that it may gain votes for the party, and they think, with that infatuation which is the besetting sin of respectable people everywhere, that when the victory is once gained by the aid of the loafers and blatherskites, they can then stop in and reap the peaceable fruits of it. If they are so unfortunate as to elect Allen next month they can then see what success they will have in saddling this wild ass of the prairie

Senator Gordon of Georgia says the Democrats of Mississippi are beginning to "chirp." And they propose to "chirp" to that extent that the state will be gained to the Democracy —Boston Post

The "chirping" was made with revolvers and shot-guns employed in the slaughter of peaceable negroes and the President of a Republican Club at Clinton

The second election for Representative was held at Bridgton Monday, when J. F. Walker (Dem.) had 311, Benj. T. Chase 3 As Benj F Chase (Rep.) claims Hale's vote cast for B. T. Chase at the first election was intended for him, and would thus have elected him, the Republicans did not vote on Monday. Mr. Chase will claim his seat before the Legislature, and, on this state of facts will get it as the Legislature last winter and repeatedly before, has affirmed Representatives under similar circumstances

The following Bowdoin College graduates will be members of the next Legislature F A Pike and J C Talbot, '50. F Robie '51, S J Anderson, '54, E Fassett, '57 E D Nealley, '58 J M Good win '65, H D Hutchins '59 C E Morrell, '60 I W Hyde, '67, W L Warren and E S Keyes '65

How the National finances were managed in a time of profound peace in the good old Democratic days of James Buchanan, is shown in Appleton's American Cyclopedia page 653, vol. XV:

In 1857 the debt stood at $29,060,307 but by July 1860 it had risen to $64,769,703. The condition of the country in the last four months of Mr. Buchanan's administration compelled a still further increase of the debt, and at the inauguration of Mr. Lincoln it stood at $65,895,810"

And there were Democratic reformers and economizers in those days

The whole Republican County ticket in Hancock is probably elected excepting one Senator Hon. Jos. T. Hinckley, Republican, is elected, and the Democrats have probably elected Mr Tolman as the other Senator

The report of a purpose to contest the seat of Hon Josh Porter is frivolous, as the case was decided by the votes at the election which will be recognized by the Legislature

The illustration of the late Democratic county treasurer of Somerset, Mr Stewart contented to $2 893 That amount has been paid over by his bondsmen.

POLITICAL AND PERSONAL.

It is comparatively remarked of Jeff Davis that he never fought like a man nor surrendered like a gentleman

There is said to be now only one German paper in Ohio that does not advise and support the election of Hayes whose prospects are very encouraging.

The New Orleans Republican remarks that bringing over the bloody chasm with forts manned by colored men in one day, as in Mississippi is not the sort of bridging calculated to build the way to Democratic success

The activity of the Republican campaign in Ohio may be inferred from the fact that the appointments for Republican meetings fill one and a half columns of closely printed matter in the Columbus State Journal

Horatio Seymour, in a speech to the Army of the Cumberland, made a very happy statement of his own military qualities when he said "even Grant will admit that in a little contest I had with him he was a good deal faster and further than I had

The Philadelphia Press puts the question, What is the issue in Pennsylvania? and answers it by saying, "simply that of maintaining good government" Nine years of Republican administration in the State have cut down the debt from $35,315,452 to $24,368,638 That is the kind of operation the people would like to see continued

The Richmond Whig (Dem.) has discovered a new argument for inflation. It is a very good one—for the latitude of Virginia It is, briefly, that "if the tax upon tobacco should be abolished the National Government could make up any deficiency in revenue by an issue of legal tenders." NEW PUBLICATIONS.

ELI PERKINS at Large. This is a volume of humorous writings by Melville M. Landon, better known as Eli Perkins, which the author lends abroad for the amusement of the public, and which contains some really good things as well as some that are simply stupid, and serve no better purpose than to increase the number of pages. The book is handsomely illustrated by Nast, Darley, Fredericks, Eytinge, White, Stephens and others, and the letter press is almost faultless. As a whole the matter contained in the book will not create an extensive popularity for the writer J. B. Ford & Co, Publishers, N. Y.

OUR GUY is a story for juveniles, by Mrs. E. E. Boyd, and one which will excite the interest of children of readers to some purpose, teaching them many a tender lesson of respect and love for a christian life. The book is an excellent one for the Sunday school library, and would be appreciated by young readers. Henry Hoyt, Publisher, Boston. For sale by E. F. & W. G. Duren.

NATIONAL HYMN AND TUNE BOOK This book is designed in part as a book of music, to be used in the opening and closing exercises in schools and seminaries. The words of the hymns are entirely unsectarian, and may therefore be sung in all public and private schools. The music is well chosen It is evident that the publishers have brought out of their treasury for the occasion things "new and old" and all good. Oliver Ditson & Co., Publishers Boston. For sale by E. F. & W. G. Duren.

THE TEMPERANCE TROVE SERIES. We have received two volumes of this charming series of books, and find it comprises selections from Dickens, Lamb, Hood, Irving, Mary Mapes, Dodge, Mark Twain, George W. Curtis, Thackeray, and others. The reader will find in its pages noble, cheerful, humorous, and all of which are full of food for subsequent thought, and so nicely drawn as to absorb his individual attention. It is seldom that a little volume contains so much choice reading matter as is to be found in this, and it is safe to predict for the series a wide and rapid sale. William T Gill & Co., publishers, Boston. For sale by D Bugbee & Co.

UNITED STATES HARDWARE AND METAL TRADES DIRECTORY. This volume comprises a complete list of the manufacturers, importers, wholesale and retail dealers, commission merchants, brokers and artisans in all the basic metals and all goods manufactured from them in the United States and Territories. As a hand-book for dealers the volume is invaluable, giving accurate information as to dealers in any portion of the Union, their post office address, etc., etc. Such a work could only be compiled at great expense, and the publishers have spared no pains to make it exact. It is finely printed in a substantial binding and makes a convenient and handsome volume. Published by Greenough, Ives & Co., Boston Price $6

PROGGY'S LITTLE BROTHER is a story for boys of his among the poor of London, showing how, even in the face of starvation, Proggy refused to steal, and wished bolsetly to feed his little brother. The tale is quite touching, and aims to teach a moral lesson to its young readers. Henry, Hoyt, Publisher, Boston. For sale by E. F. & W. G. Duren.

One of the accompaniments of the Syracuse convention was a very lively squabble between the Tammany and anti-Tammany men with a liberal use of epithets, profane and otherwise in regard to this scene the New York Post says,

If the suspicious appearance of Mr. Albert C. Beebe in the front of a convention pledged to canal reform is remarkable, the performances of the Tammany men and the anti-Tammany men at the meeting of a representative political body which is asking for the support of the independent, intelligent and respectable people of the State and the course of that body toward them are something worse.

It cannot be very encouraging to honest and independent Democrats to be told that they can secure administrative reform in the State only by sustaining in the city such an administration as that of Tammany Hall

ARCHITECTURE. We notice by the Lewiston Journal that Messrs. Kenway Bros., who are the architects of the new Grammar School building in this city, have recently completed a picturesque little cottage of the English Gothic style for M H B Pulsifer of Auburn. The Journal devotes considerable space to the description of the cottage, which is of an entirely new design for this State. The first story is of brick, laid in black mortar, and the second story is of wood. The interior of the cottage is more charming, if possible, than the exterior, the parlor walls being decorated with conventional foliage, in the arabesque style on a dark ground, while the doors and wood work will be painted black. The cottage reflects much credit on the architects, and is attracting considerable notice.

ATTEMPTED ROBBERY. Last night as the watchman of the brig Walter Hows was entering her cabin about quarter past ten, he saw a colored man in the act of packing up some clothing which he had collected, but upon seeing the watchman the fellow took to his heels and ran away. The watchman did not succeed in catching him but called the police, who advised him to watch for the man and call one of them when he should return to his boarding house. The watchman followed their instructions, and as one of the officers was returning to take another look, he found the man in the back yards of his boarding house just as he was going in. The description given by the watchman of the brig was so minute as to enable the officer to recognize him immediately. Upon being brought to the station he said his name was James Smith, but denied having broken into the cabin of the brig.
